Fetal Bovine Serum

Tico Europe's Fetal Bovine Serum (FBS) is used by world-wide cell culturists who requires high quality, high performance FBS for a wide variety of applications in cell culture studies. Tico's FBS is South American origin and is supplemented with various growth-promoting compounds to allow for a more consistent product. Each lot of FBS is tested for sterility and for the ability to support the growth of several different cell lines using both sequential growth curves and plating efficiencies.
